

HOT OFF THE PRESS!

May 1, 2007

The New Jersey Catholic Coalition for Environmental Justice (NJCCEJ) has published an eight-session book aimed at encouraging reflection and discussion on the interconnectedness of both human well being and the well-being of the entire community of God's creation. Its focus is on six areas:

- ◆ Creation and Ecology as Sacrament
- ◆ Consumer Choices
- ◆ Energy
- ◆ Food (Part 1 and Part 2)
- ◆ Water
- ◆ Advocacy
- ◆ Summary

This spiral-bound book is a practical resource that can be used by Small Christian Communities, parish ministry groups (such as social justice, justice & peace); and other small groups of adults and teens wanting to explore how to be good stewards of God's creation, preserving and respecting the dignity of life.
